1. Which of the following outcomes did your project achieve? Please check all that apply.

Knowledge and awareness of local or statewide watershed issues and concerns related to watersheds and nonpoint source pollution.

Knowledge and awareness of urban and innovative agriculture watershed protection activities.

2. Briefly describe the activities you undertook to achieve those outcomes as part of this project.

Published 4 newsletters called SPLASH. Maintained a website with information and news for lake and watershed advocates. Several articles informed about watershed and nonpoint source pollution. Articles and animal waste projects in local areas were published. Local, state and national examples of maintaining, protecting and restoring watersheds are available in our publications.

3. How many people did your project reach?

150 SPLASH subscribers, 1000's on website

4. Describe how you evaluated your project. What methods did you use to get feedback to know that you were achieving the outcome(s) above?

Positive phone calls and comments on the SPLASH publication and information on the website.

5. Any lessons learned or summarizing comments about the project?

Everything went as planned. Better promote and expand number of people exposed to project information.
